Ellipsis, Tense and Questions

Hans Kamp
(editor)

DYANA-2

Dynamic Interpretation of Natural Language
ESPRIT Basic Research Project 6852

Deliverable R2.2.B
September 1994

Ellipsis, Tense and Questions

Hans Kamp
Universität Stuttgart
(editor)

authors:
Helle Frisak Sem
Dorit Abusch
Irene Heim
Jonathan Ginzburg
Henk Zeevat
Bernhard Schwarz
Regine Eckardt
Uwe Reyle

DYANA-2

Dynamic Interpretation of Natural Language
ESPRIT Basic Research Project 6852
Deliverable R2.2.B
September 1994

ESPRIT Basic Research Project 6852 DYANA-2

Dynamic Interpretation of Natural Language

Universiteit van Amsterdam
Institute for Logic, Language and Computation (ILLC)

University of Edinburgh
Centre for Cognitive Science (ECCS)

Universität München
Centrum für Informations- und Sprachforschung (CIS)

Universitetet i Oslo
Department of Linguistics and Philosophy (ILF)

Universität Stuttgart
Institut für Maschinelle Sprachverarbeitung (IMS)

Universität Tübingen
Seminar für Sprachwissenschaft (SfS)

Universiteit Utrecht
Research Institute for Language and Speech (OTS)

For copies of reports, updates on project activities and other DYANA-related information, contact:

The DYANA-2 Project Administrator
ILLC/Department of Philosophy
University of Amsterdam
Nieuwe Doelenstraat 15
NL-1012 CP Amsterdam

Contents

VP-ellipsis and DRT

Helle Frisak Sem
(Universitetet i Oslo)

Sequence of Tense Revisited: Two Semantic Accounts of Tense in Intensional Contexts

Dorit Abusch
(Universität Stuttgart)

Comments on Abusch's Theory of Tense

Irene Heim
(Massachusetts Institute of Technology)

Resolving Questions

Jonathan Ginzburg
(University of Edinburgh)

Task 2.2, subtask 7

Questions

Applying an Exhaustivity Operator in Update Semantics

Henk Zeevat

(Universiteit van Amsterdam)

Additional Contribution

A Note on Uniqueness with Questions

Bernhard Schwarz
(Universität Tübingen)

Additional Contribution

Adverbs in Focus

Regine Eckardt
(Universität Tübingen)

Additional Contribution

Monotonic Disambiguation and Plural Pronoun Resolution

Uwe Reyle
(Universität Stuttgart)